EVENTS & MEETINGS

THE PALACE

This iconic 18th century palace was built by Genoese nobleman Félix Solecio, who moved to Málaga where he owned a playing cards factory and exported his goods to America. Original elements have been restored and integrated in the decoration of the palace. Set in the heart of Málaga’s old town, steps away from the Picasso Museum, the Alcazaba Fortress and the Roman Theatre, a prime location near the most emblematic landmarks with easy access from different points of the city.

GASTRONOMY

Palacio Solecio, with an unbeatable charm, offers a fresh and delicate cuisine taking local seasonal products as its main ingredients. The delicious cuisine is full of exquisite flavours from the land and the sea served as traditional recipes from the south of Spain with a modern touch.
